

HER LACK OF SYSTEM

By FRANK WINGET.

"Where's the ice pick?" inquired the ordinary man, coming upstairs from the basement and hunting languidly in the tool drawer.

"Isn't it in the drawer?" His wife came across the room to help him hunt. "Not there? Isn't that strange? I was sure it was there!"

"Strange!" The ordinary man's tone was scornful. "Strange!" He shut the drawer with a bang. "If I've bought one ice pick, I've bought fifty! If I want to have a thing in this house where I can find it when I want it, I've got to keep it chained in my pocket with my keys! I never heard of another house like this!"

He put his hands into his pockets and strode up and down the kitchen as he talked. "Here's the ice melting and nothing to chip it with—and hot—than fury! I suppose you never dreamed that we'd need ice drinks in November. An ordinary woman would have seen to it that that ice was under the pump."

Way with every tool—copy of W. W. Long, United States farm demonstration agent, endorsing the plan for the State to manufacture lime for agricultural purposes and to sell it to the farmers at cost.

"Why, interrupted his wife, 'you know yourself that you lent your garden outfit to Mr. Daniels and he carried them away when he moved and—'

"Yes, and you expected me to come from the office and hang around when Daniels moved, to see that he didn't carry off my property! Hang it! Why don't you watch out for a few things! Why can't you keep your eyes open!

"You Fixed Up a Bench."

You seem to think I am solely responsible for things about this place! I don't know who is responsible if it isn't you! You ought to see the place father had at home. There was the tool shed and it—"

"Yes, a big tool shed—and who took care of it? I heard your father say that he passed all his leisure time in that shed. And your mother said she never had to think of repairs—your father was so good about remembering everything. He kept all her knives sharpened and—"

"I suppose you think I ought to hang around home sharpening knives, when I can get a man for half a dollar to sharpen all we ever owned! It shows how much you think of my business ability. You can't appreciate my work."

"I never said I didn't appreciate anything. But you said your father—"

"Now, we'll leave my father quite out of the discussion," exclaimed the ordinary man, warmly. "He had nothing to do with the ice pick being gone. Here it is Sunday and no ice pick! I tell you it's the same with the hammer—and with the screw driver that I got last Christmas. I've never seen them—"

"Oh!" exclaimed his wife. "Don't you remember that you fixed up a bench in the attic with your new tools Christmas week and I'll bet your things are up there!"

"Jimmy! That's what I did!" He took the stairs two at a time. "Yup, hehe they all are! Lucky I had the good sense to put them away or they'd be all lost by this time. Show me what a good housekeeper you are! Not to know they're here!"—Chicago Daily News.

"You Fixed Up a Bench."

Forewarned is Forearmed.

"I'm not in business for my health." "Neither am I."

"Good! Now that I know you'll skin me if you get a chance and you know I'll skin you if I get a chance, let's get down to business."

Short News Items

Make South Carolina Great Cattle State.

A statewide movement for a live-stock industry was launched in Columbia Saturday when 125 representative men met there to discuss means of eradicating the cattle tick.

A committee of five will present the matter to the General Assembly, asking for $40,000 to fight the cattle tick and sub-committees in every county will create sentiment in favor of the movement.

Of equal importance was the adoption of a resolution proposed by W. W. Long, United States farm demonstration agent, endorsing the plan for the State to manufacture lime for agricultural purposes and to sell it to the farmers at cost.

Two More Candidates for Governor

Charles Carrol Sims of Barnwell and L. W. J. Browning of Union are the latest entrants in the race for governor of South Carolina.

C. R. D. Burns May Run

There is much talk about C. R. D. Burns, of Walhalla, as a candidate next year for secretary of State. We are sure that there is no man in the State who would make a better officer in that place. Mr. Burns is qualified in every way to fill the office. Then, too, we feel that this county deserves something in the way of recognition at the hands of the people of the State.—Keowee Courier.

Mr. Burns has many friends in Pickens county who would like to see him make the race.

Candidate for Governor Dead

George R. Rembert, member of the South Carolina General Assembly from Columbia and a candidate for Governor, died in Columbia at 10 o'clock Sunday night, following a breakdown he suffered four weeks ago. He was 38 years of age and leaves a wife and five children. Two brothers, one of whom is Prof. A. G. Rembert of Wofford College, and a sister also survive.

Monument Unveiled

A monument to the partisan generals of the Revolutionary war was unveiled in Columbia Tuesday in connection with the annual State Conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The monument, has been erected on the State house grounds and is an imposing memorial to Francis Marion, Thomas Sumter and Andrew Pickens. The shaft is a gift of the D. A. R.'s of this State.

"Cheshire's Harpoon."

Col. V. B. Cheshire, formerly editor of the Anderson Intelligencer and a candidate for congress from this district will begin publication of a new semi-weekly paper in Anderson this week. The paper will be known as Cheshire's Harpoon.

Tillman to Support Smith

Senator Tillman has issued a statement in which he says he will support Senator E. D. Smith for re-election to the U. S. Senate from this state. He says Smith has been loyal to the people of the state and deserves re-election.

A Night of Terror.

Few nights are more terrible than that of a mother looking on her child choking and gasping for breath during an attack of croup, and nothing in the house to relieve it. Many mothers have passed nights of terror in this situation. A little forethought will enable you to avoid all this. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a certain cure for croup and has never been known to fail. Keep it at hand. For sale by all dealers.

Little James Lesley Dead

A little white coffin, a large number of weeping friends and relatives, the preacher in the pulpit reading God's precious word to comfort the bereaved and to warn sinners, was the scene witnessed at Zion church last Monday. In the little white coffin was the cold, lifeless form of little James Edward, youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Lesley, of the Zion community. The funeral was conducted by Rev. D. W. Hiott, and the body of dear little "Jimmy" was laid to rest in the cemetery near the church. He had lived a little more than three years to bless and brighten the home of his parents. Now he has gone to live with God where he will await the coming of loved ones.

Railroad, Easley to Abbeville

A mass meeting of representatives from interested towns and communities will be held in Abbeville next week to discuss plans for building a railroad from Easley to Abbeville, via Anderson.

Cotton Report

The government's fourth cotton ginning report announces that up to November 1st, 8,835,913 bales of cotton had been ginned, against 8,869,222 bales at the same time last year. Of this amount 861,198 bales had been ginned in South Carolina against 730,690 at the same time last year.

Up until November 1st, 1912, 4,675 bales of cotton had been ginned in Pickens county. To the same date this year, 9,298 bales have been ginned. A gain of 4,623 bales.

Cold Wave.

A cold wave swept over the entire country Sunday. Snow and wind storms are reported in the North and Middle West. Fifteen inches of snow fell in the northern part of West Virginia.

Tonight.

Tonight, if you feel dull and stupid, or bilious and constipated, take a dose of Chamberlain's Tablets and you will feel all right tomorrow. For sale by all dealers.

Honor Roll of Pickens Graded School for Second Month.

Grade 1—Ruth Graveley, Lucile Davis, Lucile Hallum, Robert Matheny, Ethel Porter, Harold Wolfe.

Grade 2—Ellen Freeman, Helen Griffin, Lois Hames, Mae Loooper, Essie Stewart, George Yongue, Neta Belle Johnson.

Grade 3—Don Roark, Nannie Morris.

Grade 5—Melanie Thornley, Ethylene Gantt, Malinda Porter.

Grade 6—Earl Morris, Bernice Carey, Elinor Earle.

Grade 7—Olive Nealey, Bertha Cantrell, Joe Frank Freeman, John Lynn Freeman, Pearl Hester, Addie Finley, Harrison Edens.

Grade 8—Emma Herd, Henrietta Yongue.

Condensed Passenger Schedules

Between Greenville, Anderson and Greenwood, Effective Thursday, May 15th, 1913. Trains leave and arrive corner Main and Washington streets.
No.	Time.	No.	Time.
1	6:00 am	2	8:10 am
3	7:50 am	4	10:10 am
5	10:00 am	6	12:25 pm
7	11:40 am	8	1:40 pm
9	1:45 pm	10	3:55 pm
11	3:50 pm	12	6:05 pm
15	5:00 pm	16	8:20 pm
17	8:35 pm	18	10:45 pm

Tickets on sale G. S. & A. Terminal 104 North Main St.
C. S. ALLEN, Gen. Pass. Agent

POULTRY FACTS

TO DISCOURAGE BROODY HENS

There Are Many Ways of Breaking Up Broodiness—Coop With Slatted Bottom Is Excellent.

The end of the breeding season seems to be the appointed time for hens to get broody. Earlier in the year when their services would have been most welcome great difficulty was experienced in finding sufficient to sit on the desired number of eggs. August is too late for the utilizing of their broodiness, unless a few duck eggs be set under some of them. At this time, too, the scarcity of eggs makes it the desire of all poultry keepers to break up their "broodies" and have them laying again as soon as possible.

There are many ways of breaking hens of broodiness, and the more barbarous ones such as tying the hen up by one leg, throwing cold water over her, or making her stand in water should be forgotten and practiced no longer. The same and better results can be obtained by more humane methods.

Placing the hen in an ordinary coop, with a slatted bottom, and suspending the coop from the ceiling of the scratching pen about a foot above the floor by wires or chains attached to the four corners has been found efficacious. A gentle swing whenever entering the pen will soon make the birds desirous of joining their more busy companions. A little Epsom salts given in a mash and an abundant supply of green food should be given. All foods which have the slightest tendency toward heat production, such as corn, meat scraps, etc., must be withheld for a few days.

Coop for Broody Hens.

Take the bird in time. It is practically impossible to break a hen after allowing her to sit on a nest for two or three days.

It should always be remembered that in the ordinary course of nature a hen that has laid persistently all winter and spring, demands a short rest, which broodiness gives.

ONE HOT WEATHER TROUBLE

When Diarrhea First Makes Its Appearance It May Be Checked by Use of Charcoal.

(By H. B. SPECK.)

Diarrhea is one of the most common hot weather troubles in poultry of all ages, and when it makes its first appearance, charcoal freely fed may check or control the disorder. Diarrhea may be due to food or drinking water being foul with droppings or other filth; to feeding impure, musty and moldy food; to overheating; to feeding in dusty, musty or moldy litter; to unclean quarters and dampness; to overfeeding on meat food or feeding spoiled meat; to eating poisoned substances or to indigestion from any cause. The first thing to do when diarrhea makes its appearance is to find the cause and remove it. Drinking from filthy pools in unclean runs after a sudden shower, or drinking barnyard seepage is a common cause of diarrhea in hot weather.

Watch the grit box. Keep all your houses wide open day and night. Don't crowd your birds. Give them all the range you can. See that your little chicks have plenty of shade and water. Sell the rooster and buy an alarm clock. It's more useful now. Wheat and oats are better hot weather foods than corn and kafir. Don't forget to keep down the lice; just a little grease on top of chick's head is good. Be sure to store away some clover or alfalfa hay this summer for the layers in cold weather.

Bazaar and Chicken Dinner

The ladies of the Methodist church will have a bazaar and chicken dinner Friday, Nov. 21. They will have for sale fancy articles, suitable for Christmas presents, and will be prepared to serve fried chicken, baked chicken, chicken salad, etc. All at reasonable rates. Everybody cordially welcomed.

Many Bargains This Week

Practically every advertisement in this week's Sentinel is a new one and our readers are offered many opportunities of securing bargains in anything they may wish to purchase. All our advertisers are reliable people and they know that The Sentinel circulates among the best people in the county and they want the trade of that class of people. Watch our columns for announcements of interest to buyers. Home merchants will treat you right.

Income Tax

Comptroller General Jones estimates that the State income tax this year will yield about $15,000. He said he had not decided upon a recommendation with reference to the enforcement of the law. He does not think that the law should be repealed because of the national income tax law.

Cause of Insomnia.

The most common cause of insomnia is disorders of the stomach and constipation. Chamberlain's Tablets correct these disorders and enable you to sleep. For sale by all dealers.

Clerk's Sale.

The State of South Carolina, County of Pickens, In Common Pleas Court, M. L. Hendricks et al, Plaintiffs, against M. O. Lenhardt, Defendant.

In pursuance of a decretal order made in the above stated case by His Honor H. F. Rice, dated Nov. 7, 1913, I will sell to the highest bidder on Saturday, December 13, 1913, during the legal hours for sale at Pickens, S. C., the following tracts of land, to-wit:

Tract No. 1, adjoining lands of John Entekin, J. J. McSwain and others, and containing seventy acres more or less.

Tract No. 2, adjoining lands of Eliza Kelley, James Hudgens and others, and containing 75 48-100 acres more or less.

Tract No. 3, adjoining lands of Mary Ross, S. M. Perry and others, and containing 75-100 acres more or less.

Tract No. 4, adjoining lands of the estates of J. E. Hagood, W. C. Hendricks and others, and containing 9 88-100 acres more or less.

Tract No. 5, the home tract, adjoining lands of J. J. McSwain, W. O. Hendricks and others, and containing 72 26-100 acres more or less.

Full descriptions of the above tracts of land see plats of Survey on file in the Clerk's office, Pickens County, S. C.

Terms of Sale: One-half cash on day of sale, the balance on a credit of twelve months, the credit portion to be secured by the bond of the purchaser and a mortgage of the premises sold and bearing interest from day of sale at the rate of eight per cent. per annum until paid, with leave to the purchasers to anticipate payment. The purchasers must comply with the terms of sale within one hour after the sale or the premises will be re-sold on same day at the risk of the former purchaser or purchasers. Purchaser or purchasers to pay for all papers and recording of the same.

A. J. BOGGS, Clerk of Court.

Florida—All persons owing accounts to Parsons & Ashmore will please leave amount they owe at the Pickens Bank and get receipt. All accounts not paid by Jan. 1, 1914, we will have to place in hands of an attorney for collection.

For Sale—My 2 houses and lots in Pickens. You can get them at a bargain. If you mean business write me for prices and terms, or make me an offer if you care to. Other property in Pickens at a bargain. Write me. J. R. Ashmore, Lisbon, Fla.

Gaining Ground Daily

Cheshire, Candidate for Congress, Said to be Making Aggressive Campaign.

Col. Victor B. Cheshire, formerly editor and owner of the Intelligencer, recognized under his management as the most influential paper in the upper part of the State, and now a candidate for Congress, spent yesterday in town. Col. Cheshire is a tireless worker and a hard fighter. It is generally conceded that he will be in the second race and is not only strong in Anderson county but is gaining in the other counties of the district. He has a big following in this county as well as influential backers, having the support of Hon. "Josh" Ashley and men of his type.—Honea Path Chronicle. (Adv.)

Dr. Carpenter Away.

Editor Pickens Sentinel: Please state in your next issue that I will be out of the State until about the 21st of this month. I have many patients in the territory covered by your paper and this information will keep them from making needless trips to Greenville. Yours very truly, C. W. Carpenter. Greenville, Nov. 8.

Miss Ora McFall charmingly entertained a number of friends last Thursday evening at her beautiful home on Hampton avenue. The first part of the evening was given over to literary and musical selections; quite an interesting program being rendered. Two contests occupied the latter part of the evening. In the first contest Miss Maka Boggs and Whittitt Hiott were the successful contestants and were awarded the prize—a picture of Wm. Shakespeare. Late in the evening a delicious salad course was served. Miss McFall is indeed a charming hostess.

The Piedmont Tie and Lumber Co. are in the market for cross-ties and will pay cash for them. Messrs. Hughey and Gibson are experienced men in their line.

Magistrate J. M. Jameson, of Easley, was called to Mr. Frank Lenhardt's plantation Monday night, the 3d inst., to hold an inquest over the body of Stoe Heard, a negro about 35 years of age, who had accidentally killed himself early in the night with the contents of a shot gun which by some means was fired as he opened the door of his cabin. The femoral artery of the left leg was severed, causing death in a few minutes.—Easley Progress.

The younger set enjoyed a delightful party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Christopher last Friday evening.

Mrs. W. B. Freeman entertained a number of young people at her home last Friday evening.

Mr. "Zade" Cox, of Atlanta, spent several days this week with relatives in Pickens.

Some unusually low prices on seasonable goods are announced this week by that popular store, Heath-Bruce-Morrow Co. They take a half page in this paper to tell the people of it. When the Big Store offers it you know it's right, and these extra values will go fast.

Miss Nettie Barton and Mr. J. N. Wallace of Easley were married in Anderson last week.

Mrs. Emmie Pickens Smith, of near Easley, and Mr. J. J. Johnson, of Greenville, were married by Rev. D. W. Hiott in Easley last week.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Charles H. Pritchard

NOTES from MEADOWBROOK FARM

Never excite a dairy cow.

Furnish homes for the birds.

Comfort is cheaper than corn.

The colt needs good attention.

The charge of milkers is, as a rule, detrimental.

Clip the horse. It will help to keep him healthy.

Irregular times of milking are always damaging.

Plenty of shade for yarded poultry flocks now is required.

It is not a good plan to mix warm milk with that already cooled.

Keep the chicks growing. They will appreciate any tender green feed.

For the fence flying habit, try clipping the larger feathers off one wing.

Corn stalks are good fertilizer and should be left on the field after cutting.

Exercise is better laying stimulant for the hens than heat-producing condiments.

Eggs deteriorate rapidly in the pantry or kitchen these days. Keep them in a cool place.

Establish, if possible, a brand of eggs which will in itself be guarantee of good quality.

A small box to sit upon is a great back saver in the garden. Try one when picking the currants.

Overfeeding of green cut bone is apt to cause leg troubles, diarrhoea, bowel complaints and worms.

Nothing aids so much in destroying a herd by tuberculosis as a poorly lighted and ill ventilated stable.

Every heifer calf should have an inheritance that will make it possible for her to make a better cow than her dam.

The cow with the biggest appetite, other things being equal, is the one which will give the most milk and butterfat.

If you wish that young heifer to develop into a wild cow, turn her in an out-of-the-way pasture where you seldom see her.

The lower the temperature at churning time the smaller will be the loss of butter fat and the less washing the butter requires.

Oftentimes the one who has dairy butter for sale must take his pay in trade, while those who sell cream get nothing but cash.

A good way to strain milk is to put several thicknesses of cheese cloth over the can and hold the cloths in place with clothes pins.

A large digestive tract should be developed in the heifer so she will be able to handle large quantities of food when she reaches milking age.

Mature does not improve the taste or quality of the milk. See that the cows are clean before milking, especially about the thighs and flanks.

Young turnip, cabbage and beet plants make the best of greens. It is but a small job to plant these at different times, and they can be had all summer.

Lack of care in feeding is far and away the most fruitful cause of trouble, and the man whose horse is troubled with indigestion has usually only himself to blame.

If you haven't a silo, a small patch of roots will make succulence for your cows next winter. Mangels yield heavily per acre. Only a small amount need be planted.

According to the New York experiment station, the cost of food, per chick, to weigh one pound, on ground grain, is three cents; on whole grain, three and seven-tenths cents.

If celery rots quickly in your cellar it may be retained in the garden through the early winter by banking up well and covering with boards and straw. There is a fresher flavor when it is kept near the soil than when grown in the cellar.